

Does EVN sell electricity in Vietnam?

Retail electricity prices in Vietnam are regulated and, though permitted, price rises are not all that common. This has led to EVN selling electricity below cost price-- In January of 2024, it was losing as much as VND 142.5 per kilowatt-hour sold.

How much does electricity cost in Vietnam?

In May 2025, and Vietnam's average electricity price per kWh was set at VND 2,204.07 or about US $0.084, excluding value-added tax (VAT), per Decision 599/QĐ-EVN. This was an increase from an average electricity price per kWh of VND 2,103.1159 or about US $0.0836, excluding value-added tax (VAT), per Decision 2699/QĐ-BCT, from October 2024.

Who manages the electricity market in Vietnam?

The Ministry of Industry and Trade is the government body in charge of managing Vietnam's electricity market and supply. It does this through the wholly state-owned power company Electricity Vietnam commonly known as EVN. EVN generates some power, but also buys power from wholesalers, and sells electricity to consumers.

How is electricity price regulated in Vietnam?

Electricity prices in Vietnam are regulated by the government and vary by sector, voltage level, time of day (normal, off-peak, peak), and geography. Businesses in industrial parks, service sectors, or using wholesale arrangements may face different pricing structures. Who manages electricity in Vietnam?

Priorities under the reform programme include restructuring electricity prices across all categories, which have caused electricity bills to skyrocket, triggering public complaints. Announced in ...

Explore electricity in Vietnam including pricing, power shortages, renewable energy targets, the new DPPA decree, and the organizational structure (EVN, NPSDC),

The Ministry of Industry and Trade plans to increase electricity imports from China and Laos by 3,000 MW and 2,500 MW respectively by 2030, 1.5-5 times higher than the current plan.

Currently, Vietnam imports about 1,000 MW of electricity from Laos through 220 kV interconnected transmission lines. According to the agreement between the two governments, the total ...

The Ministry of Industry and Trade Has Officially Issued a Decision Approving the Electricity Import Price Framework From Laos to Vietnam for 2026 Onwards October 31, 2024 The pipeline of ...

Vietnam also has ongoing developments for hydropower projects in Laos and imports electricity from Laos via cross-border grid connections, said the deputy minister. Vietnam may depend more on ...

Vietnam has put forth a proposal to import wind power from Laos to tackle power shortage in the northern regions.

Electricity vientiane

By strategically combining domestic energy production expansion with increased imports from China and Laos, Viet Nam aims to secure a stable power supply while maintaining economic momentum. ...

The Ministry of Industry and Trade plans to increase electricity imports from China and Laos by 1.6 to five times from between now and 2030.

Web: <https://www.minimercadofortem.es>

