What is a 5G Brain Center?

Often referred to as the brain center, this includes: Baseband Unit (BBU): Handles baseband signal processing. Remote Radio Unit (RRU): Converts signals to radio frequencies for transmission. Active Antenna Unit (AAU): Integrates RRU and antenna for 5G-era efficiency. 2. Power Supply System

What is a communication base station?

In the vast telecommunications network, communication base stations play a frontline role. Positioned closest to end users, they serve as gateways for processing customer requests and managing data flow. In the words of "Interesting Communication Engineering Drawings," these stations act like "business trackers," always vigilant to:

What is a baseband unit (BBU)?

Baseband Unit (BBU): The Signal Processor The BBU is a key element of the base station's architecture. Unlike the large cabinet setups of the past, modern BBUs are compact and resemble distributed devices, similar in size to DVD players. Function: Processes baseband signals, which are low-frequency signals in their raw, unmodulated state.

What are the benefits of a base station?

Base stations, while small in structure, are equipped with everything necessary to operate independently. They ensure: Protection against environmental factors like wind, rain, and lightning. Uninterrupted power supply through robust systems and backup solutions. Efficient signal transmission to connect users to the broader network.
